

Senior Mechanical Engineer & Senior Plant Engineer

The Company

Affective Rail Pty Ltd is a high level rail maintenance company within NSW. They design, develop, plan and project manage a variety of solutions using range of unique and specialised plant for their clients in the rail industry within Australia and the Oceania region. Due to continued growth, we are looking for an experienced senior mechanical engineer and an experienced senior plant engineer.

Qualifications, Experience and Requirements

Degree in Mechanical Engineering or relevant industry experience within the rail industry.

Relevant design experience within the rail industry using specialised rail equipment.

Significant experience and knowledge of Trac Rail Transposers and Panel Lifters, including operating and maintenance experience.

Relevant Business and/or management qualifications advantageous

Strong analytic and report writing skills.

Significant project management experience.

Strong communications and rapport building skills.

Be willing to relocate to Wollongong, with Australian work rights.

What you will get in return

We are offering a salary package of between $125,000 and $250,000 for each position. In addition, you will be entitled to 4 weeks annual leave, superannuation and a fully maintained company vehicle. You will be located in our Wollongong Office however will be required to travel to our client's premises from time to time as required. You will be exposed to major clients and work alongside people who are skilled, experienced, and committed to the company.

If this sounds like you forward your cover letter and resume to careers@affektive.com.au stating which position you are applying for.

Applications close 16 January 2024.

Only successful candidates will be contacted.